

Dear Wuffles,

Thank you for writing to me. Your dog knows how to make a point! Now that I've written this letter, I can't wait until they get here. Then I'll be able to [REDACT] them all with my bare hands.

Anyway, it's time to go see what this new land is like. We're going to have a big party tonight! I'm going to tell everyone about how great it is here.

Best regards,

Jaimie, age 14
